Harvest Buffet Restaurant

The Harvest Buffet Restaurant, the largest independently owned buffet/banquet facility in the state of Oklahoma, has solved their hard water problems by installing the incredible new electronic descaler called ScaleBlaster™.

The first class buffet-style restaurant and convention facility center, located in Tulsa, seats 550 people and uses over 360,000 gallons of water a month. With this high volume of water use, you can imagine the problems associated with the hard water. The equipment was constantly clogging up with calcium buildup.

A richer flavor from their coffee urns was another pleasant surprise after just the second week of ScaleBlaster™ installation.

The interior of one of the commercial dishwashers is virtually scale-free. Before ScaleBlaster™ was installed, the entire area was covered with scale deposits.

The commercial dishwashers at the Harvest Buffet would clog up with scale on the water jets and surrounding areas. Within two weeks, they started cleaning themselves, and by the sixth week, virtually all the scale in the interior was gone - including the rubber curtains! The water jets were totally scale free without any trace of buildup.

The blue curtains on the commercial dishwashers would normally be covered with scale buildup. Today, they are virtually free of scale buildup - as well as the interior of the dishwasher.

The heating elements on the food lines went from heavy scale buildup to almost spotless in five weeks. These heating elements, which are under all of the water heated food trays, have turned from heavily corroded to almost squeaky clean. A year and a half later, the elements are still spotless without any maintenance required.

When the owners had their water tested by a local laboratory after six weeks of ScaleBlaster™, they were told their water reacted like "soft water," thus allowing less vigorous detergents and saving even more money!
